Evident in its thoughtful and elegant designs, Italian brand Cierre is selling more than a piece of furniture, but a feeling, a setting and the enjoyment of life.

Ever since the first homemade sofa debuted in 1972 in Forlì, Italy, Romano Conficconi had laid the rules for refined details which have run in Cierre's DNA.

Italians are known for their strong ties among family members, so it comes as no surprise that, over the last four decades, the house has worked to perfect the most important furniture that keeps the household together – the sofa.

The sofa is the centerpiece of every living room where family members gather and share the joy every day and night. And for Cierre, now synonymous with luxury leather sofa, each unique piece must exude a depth of quality and, at the same time, embody the perfect balance of design, comfort and value.

It is the strong conviction of Stefano Conficconi, chief designer of Cierre, and son of Romano Conficconi, that Cierre is not only selling a piece of furniture, "but a feeling, a setting and the enjoyment of life".

One of the popular line-ups of the brand's sofa has to be Aida, one that is both modern and comfortable. Handmade in Italy, Aida appeals with sleek appearance in top quality European leather and contemporary polished metal legs. Carefully arranged cushions are filled with anti-allergy goose feather to minimize the chance of allergy, not to mention that it also comes in a range of sizes to cater to different needs. Matching armchair and coffee table are also available.

But Cierre is more than just sofa. In fact, its quality designs also extend on to home essentials like dining tables and chairs – the other important domestic constituents.

Designed to uplift every family's dining experience, the Karma Table is fashionable, durable and practical all wrapped in one, thanks to the high quality multilayered poplar wood used. With a choice of sycamore-veneered or oak-veneered wood, both types are smoked to inject a quaint vintage touch to the minimalist scheme.

Succeeding the same Italian craftsmanship especially in details like stitching and lines, the Boheme Chair is created by hand in Italy with the same premium European leather to offer comfort and support during dining time. Armchairs are also available in the Boheme collection.

From Dough to Bowl

Cooking meals entirely from scratch is always a difficult task for time-strapped city dwellers. Instead of consuming the readymade and highly processed food, German Pool leads urbanites a step closer to healthy eating with the launch of the Automatic Dough and Noodle Maker.

The 2-in-1 kneading and noodle extrusion design mixes the flour, kneads the dough and extrudes dried noodles automatically for full enjoyment of homemade, preservatives-free noodles while sitting cozily at home. With six nozzles that are easy to swap out, noodle making is diverse and creative, whether it's the Cantonese egg noodles, Japanese udon or Western pasta.

To guarantee a smooth noodle production process, full set of accessories is also available for all convenience. Visit www.germanpool.com or call 2773 2888 for more information.
