Kitchen Happenings

Kitchen is the hub of a home. It is where all the actions happen. It is not just the place to prepare and cook food, but also a space to eat, entertain and socialize. High-quality, colorful gadgets will add a bit of your personality and vibrancy to this special space.

Tea Date with Miranda Kerr

Quintessentially graceful, elegant and romantic, the 100-year-old English tableware brand Royal Albert partners with supermodel Miranda Kerr to infuse catwalk glamour into traditional English tableware – and a delightfully feminine bone china tea and giftware collection is born! Miranda drew inspirations from her love of nature, the color palate of her garden, as well as her travels throughout the world, and the fond memories of the times she spent sipping tea from her grandmother's Royal Albert tea set, to create a fashionable collection that encapsulates the grace of free-spirited, modern women. Stay Calm and Cook in Style

Tick Tock Tick Tock...With the theme of "Time for Change", Cath Kidston's A/W 2014 collection for kitchen is fun and fabulous. The theme is best expressed through the brand-new-yet-retro clocks print range in the array of adorable kitchen accessories, from baking tools and aprons to kitchen crockery and tea towels. The cheerful china and cooking gadgets effortlessly create a dinner service that will surely brighten up your day.

New definition of rice cooking

With a huge success in Korea, the leading Korean brand Cuckoo is targeting the global market and launching its IH Pressure Rice Cooker range. Incorporating high pressure and vacuum cooking technology in its 1.8L model, this cooker reduces cooking time and energy consumption, with the cooked rice remaining soft and sweet for longer. A 1L model is also available to fit into the compact living space in Hong Kong and suits small families. (Cuckoo | 2861 2767)
